We appreciate our repeated recognition in Super Lawyers®. Less public, but no less rewarding, is the "thank you" we receive from our satisfied clients.

At Laufenberg & Hoefle, S.C., our clients are our No. 1 priority. We represent individuals and families throughout Wisconsin who have suffered loss or injury because of the carelessness of others. Family attorneys often refer their clients to us, and all of our clients come to us in a time of need. We know they rely on us to provide aggressive, professional representation. We believe they are entitled to that and more.

The "more" is recognition that our clients' losses are very personal. We listen to our clients' concerns and treat them with respect and compassion. We return their calls and answer their questions. We explain the process of investigating, developing and presenting a claim. We explain the legal rules that apply to the case and provide an objective, realistic evaluation of the prospects for success.

Our philosophy is that it is the client's case, not ours. That is why we involve our clients in every decision that is important to the resolution of the claim. An informed and involved client is more likely to be a satisfied client.

Of course, the best results are possible only through a commitment to excellence and professionalism. We have tried cases in all parts of Wisconsin. When necessary, we protect our clients' interests on appeal. Our opponents are often the very best the Wisconsin legal profession has to offer.

Professional awards and recognition by the Wisconsin legal community in Super Lawyers surveys are not the reason we are in business. But these accolades are signs that we must be doing something right. To learn more about our accomplishments and our philosophy, visit our Web site at lauflaw.com.
